Assistive TECHNOLOGY
Tips and Resources for Funding and Technical Assistance

Whether it’s communication, recreation, employment, education, transportation or just plain daily living, technology levels the playing field for children and adults with disabilities. And, because technology is such a natural part of everyday life for everyone, the options for devices and apps are as numerous and diverse as the individuals who use them. Here are a few tips and resources to get you started:

TIPS

Identify the task first. Device Second. There are a lot of options out there, and no one device is right for every individual.

Get an AT Assessment. If your child is in school, ask for an AT evaluation as part of the IEP process (see inset below). For adults, contact one of the appropriate resources to the right.

Try Before You Buy. Make sure the device and/or apps are right for your son or daughter. The Washington Assistive Technology Alliance Program will loan devices for up to six weeks for a small fee.

Assistive Technology in the Schools:
Each school district shall ensure that assistive technology devices or assistive technology services, or both, are made available to a student eligible for special education if required as part of the student’s:

- Special Education
- Related Services; or
- Supplementary aids or services
- On a case-by-case basis
